

Stone House E-quipper

March 27, 2007

Dear Friends,

Progress continues on the building. The walls have their first coat of paint; the framing is up for the drop ceiling and the patio has been poured. The cabinet designs have been reviewed by the sub-committees and final corrections submitted to OK James.

As always, there are hurdles to jump and it seems like we have been given a few more to jump. Presently, there are questions on the area of rescue that involves James City County, Bob Magoon and McKinney Engineering. Dave Clegg and Craig Jennings are working with the parties to resolve the problem. We are also working on a problem with handrails along the entrance sidewalk that James City County says we now need.

There continues to be weekly meetings with OK James regarding the progress and any problems with the building. Thus far, OK James is still standing with June 3rd as the target date. I would like to thank Craig Jennings and Jim Romesburg for taking on the task of handling any problems/questions that come up while I am away.

As always, if you have any questions feel free to ask me or anyone on the building committee.

Leif
